

Cancer Crusade Officially Opens In Monroe County Today

Goal Of $6,100 Set For Drive

THE CANCER Crusade opens officially in Monroe County today.

For this year's "Cancer Month" in April, the American Cancer Society has chosen the slogan: "Fight cancer—with a checkup—and a check."

A house to house drive for funds will be conducted on April 16, according to Chester S. Miller, campaign chairman for this county.

Two phases of the drive have already been started. One of these is the special gifts division, under direction of Mrs. Frank Young. The other is the industrial-retail division, headed by Gerald Snyder.

A goal of $6,100 has been set for Monroe County. The local drive is sponsored by the Monroe County Unit, American Cancer Society. Dr. Joseph Viglione is president of the unit's board of directors and Mrs. James Cummings is the county captain.

Public Service

The local unit of the ACS carries on a year-round program of public service and education. Through its education program, the unit attempts to acquaint the public with the need for regular, thorough physical examinations as a guard against cancer.

Through the facilities of its "loan closet"—now being set up—and its bandage service, the unit serves cancer victims and their families. By providing ready-made bandages, the unit fulfills a function which would otherwise prove extraordinarily costly to the average cancer victim and his family.

All of these functions are paid for by funds contributed by local residents. It is to finance this program and the enormous research jobs needed to find a preventative or cure for cancer that the Cancer Crusade is held annually, according to Dr. Viglione.

One Slain In Another Cyprus Clash

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 1 (AP)—An elderly British civilian was slain in Limassol and violence erupted elsewhere on Cyprus today—the first anniversary of Eoka the Greek Cypriot underground.

Bombs exploded and bullets whined as Eoka struck. Six persons were wounded.

The Briton was slain in broad daylight as he took an Easter Sunday stroll. Three bullets cut him down. A Cypriot woman was wounded by a stray bullet.

The man, whose identity was not disclosed, was the first British civilian slain since Eoka launched its campaign of violence a year ago today.

Total

The British say 24 soldiers, eight police and 24 Greek Cypriots have been slain since.

Yesterday seven bombs were hurled at Limassol. Four British soldiers were wounded, one seriously.

A strict 24-hour curfew prevailed in the medieval center of Nicosia, the capital of this British island stronghold in the eastern Mediterranean.

Gov. Sir John Harding, the British administrator, clamped on the curfew to meet the threat of violence from Eoka, which has vowed to drive the British off the island.

British soldiers and subjects flocked to Easter church services as a bright sun warmed curfew-divided Nicosia.

Leader Of Peace In Soft Coal Fields Succumbs

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Harry M. Moses, who was widely credited with bringing labor peace to the long-battled soft coal industry, died today at 59. He had cancer.

Moses' death came on the April 1 date which often in the past had marked the start of bitter strike struggle between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers headed by John L. Lewis.

Today, coincident with Moses' death, the nearly 200,000 soft coal miners came into a new 90-cent per-day wage increase, final installment of a total $2 daily pay boost negotiated peacefully by Moses and Lewis last fall.

Moses, a hard, shrewd bargainer with a keen sense of fairness,

Orphans Join In Egg Hunt

CARLISLE, April 1 (AP)—Seven children whose parents were claimed by death joined in an Easter egg hunt today with other orphans at the children's home here, then attended church services.

The seven youngsters were orphaned last December when a love-sick youth fatally shot Mr. and Mrs. Jay Warren Small in their farm home near Mather in Armstrong County.

A police posse later shot to death the slayer, John Fallone, 17, when he refused to surrender. The children have been liv-

EASTER IS A TIME FOR MEMORY... and for the remembrance of the dead. In the quiet sun of the Easter morning these women knelt beside a large gravestone to make their offerings to memory. Hill Named Editor, Riley News Editor, Clark Sports Editor In Record Changes

THREE CHANGES on the editorial staff of The Daily Record were announced yesterday by Horace G. Heller, newly appointed general manager of Pocono Record, Inc.

John F. Hill was named to succeed Mr. Heller as editor. He formerly served as news editor.

James J. Riley Jr., sports editor for the last 10 years, was appointed news editor.

Robert L. Clark, a newspaperman in Pennsylvania since leaving East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was named to the staff as sports editor.

The changes are effective immediately, Mr. Heller said.

Hill came to The Daily Record as telegraph editor nine years ago. He previously served on the editorial staff of the Sun-Gazette Co. in Williamsport and the Herald in Jersey Shore, Lycoming County.

He was born and educated at Jersey Shore and was a member of the Class of 1931 at Penn State University, then a college. He served for a number of years as correspondent for the Grit at Williamsport.

Hill is married to the former Pauline Heydrick, of Lock Haven. They have two children, Barbara, 13, and Danny, nine. They reside at 451 N. Eighth St., Stroudsburg.

He is a member of Lodge 106, F. and A. M., in Williamsport, and attends the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Col. Brown Retires

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., April 1 (AP)—Col. J. Trimble Brown, deputy chief, Pennsylvania Military District, was honored both by the Commonwealth and by the U.S. Army on his retirement Saturday from the Army after nearly 32 years of service.

Ing at the home, maintained by the Church of the Brethren, since early January. Mrs. Oscar Anderson, school matron, says:

"The Small youngsters are adjusting beautifully. I'm so happy with them. They're no trouble at all."

Mrs. Anderson said the eldest of the children, Gladys, 15, has recovered completely from a chest wound inflicted by the girl's suitor the night he killed her parents and an uncle, William Small.

Republicans Ready To Launch Drive

HARRISBURG, April 1 (AP)—The Republican state organization will open a drive tomorrow for President Eisenhower and organization-backed candidates at the April 24 primary, headed by U.S. Sen. James H. Duff for re-election.

The Republican Campaign Committee, headed by Henry W. Lark of Sunbury, arranged to open state headquarters in Harrisburg and planned a series of rallies starting Monday night at Carlisle.

Other rallies will be held during the week in Williamsport and Dallas, near Wilkes-Barre.

"We are beginning an intensive campaign from now until primary election day, Tuesday, April 24, to acquaint the voters with the issues and our candidates," Lark said in a week end statement.

The campaign also will be geared, Lark said, to get out "a big vote for President Eisenhower," whose name is on the Republican ballot for the presidential preference vote.

The Carlisle meeting will be attended by party leaders from Cumberland, York, Adams, Franklin, Perry, Juniata and Mifflin counties.

Republican party leaders from 11 counties will meet in Williamsport Tuesday and at Dallas on Wednesday.

Counties to be represented at the Williamsport meeting will be Snyder, Union, Northumberland, Lycoming, Montour, Columbia, Bradford, Tioga, Potter, Cameron, and Clinton counties.

The Republican leaders who will attend the meeting at Dallas will be from the counties of Luzerne, Carbon, Lackawanna, Pike, Wayne, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Sullivan.

Billy Rose To Marry Mathews

MT. KISCO, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—Showman Billy Rose said today he and blonde Joyce Mathews, who once slashed her wrists and tried to jump out a window of his apartment, will be married the first week in June.

Rose, 56, formerly married to the late Fanny Brice and to swimmer Eleanor Holm. Miss Mathews, 36, was formerly married to Venezuelan Col. Gonzalo Gomez.

Kefauver Expects 'Hard Fight'

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 1 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said tonight he faces a "hard, uphill fight" for Florida's 28 delegate votes to the Democratic National Convention but expects to win the May 29 preference primary.

The lanky presidential aspirant from Tennessee conceded that Adlai Stevenson is running ahead of him in the state.

Tentative List Of Dead Made Public

PITTSBURGH, April 1 (AP)—Trans World Airlines announced tonight the following tentative list of passengers aboard eastbound flight 400 which crashed at Greater Pittsburgh Airport:

This group is made up of those presumed dead, it was revealed.

State Assembly Points For Adjournment

HARRISBURG, April 1 (AP)—The General Assembly, opening the 16th month of the longest session in Pennsylvania's history, opens a drive this week for final adjournment by mid-April.

There was some doubt, however, that the goal would be reached because of a host of still unresolved questions.

They include annual sessions of the legislature, amendments to the 3 per cent sales tax, and salary increases for school teachers and for the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the state government.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic House leader, said he saw "no insuperable obstacles" to the mid-April adjournment date. However, Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican floor leader, said it appeared impossible to tie together the loose ends of the long session by that time.

Today

The House returns to work Monday for a brief session but will dig into controversial legislation starting Tuesday, when the Senate also resumes sessions. Both branches may be in session most of the week.

One factor favoring the April 13 adjournment date is the approach of the April 24 primary election. Many of the legislators, especially House members, are candidates for re-election and want to get home to campaign.

Should the assembly fail to complete its business by mid-April there was some talk of a recess until after the primary for campaigning back home.

Heller Appointed General Manager Of Record; Hall Takes Over At Oneonta Star

MERLE C. OSTROM, vice president and assistant publisher of Pocono Record, Inc., publishers of The Daily Record, yesterday announced that Horace G. Heller had been advanced to general manager of The Record, effective immediately.

He succeeds Elton P. Hall, who yesterday became general manager of The Oneonta Star, Oneonta, N. Y.

Mr. Hall in turn succeeds Eugene J. Brown, who took over as executive vice president of The News-Times at Danbury, Conn. All three papers are owned by Ottaway Newspapers and Radio Stations headed by James H. Ottaway of Endicott, N.Y., and Buck Hill Falls.

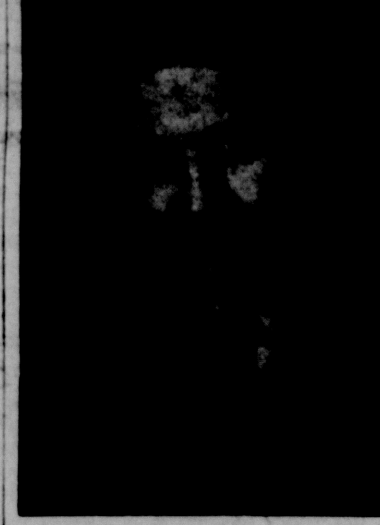

Other affiliates of the Ottaway organization are The Daily Bulletin and Station WENE at Endicott, N.Y.; The Press-Republican, Plattsburgh, N.Y., and Stations WVPO, Stroudsburg, and WDOS, Oneonta.

Mr. Hall is a native of Brodheadsville, Monroe County. He joined the advertising department of The Morning Sun in East Stroudsburg upon graduation from high school.

He joined the Ottaway organization in 1937 as advertising salesman for the Endicott Daily Bulletin. He returned to Stroudsburg in 1940 and joined the advertising department of The Daily Record.

Mr. Hall became assistant advertising manager of The Daily Record in 1946, and was appointed

Easter Big Day In State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE sun shone brightly over Pennsylvania Easter Sunday. Thousands of families went to morning church services, then spent the rest of the day enjoying the beautiful spring weather.

In the big cities of the Keystone State—Philadelphia, Erie and Scranton among others—the residents wearing new Easter clothes paraded informally.

Men, women and children, many carrying flowers, walked in the sun. It was the nicest day of this year's spring which came in last March 20 in the wake of a snowstorm.

Solemnity

Though the weather gladdened the hearts of everyone, the religious solemnity of the day was not overlooked. In every community, small and big, the emphasis was on church services to commemorate Christianity's grandest theme: "The Lord is risen."

Sunrise services set the mood in Philadelphia where more than 10,000 crowded Broad street for the annual outdoor ceremonies conducted by the Rev. Ross Stover of the Messiah Lutheran Church.

Pittsburgh held its first Easter parade in the shiny new Gateway Center section of the business district.

Whitehall Man Among Survivors

PITTSBURGH, April 1 (AP)—An eastbound TWA airliner slammed into a hillside tonight and burst into flames seconds after taking off from Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Coroner W. D. McClelland said 21 bodies were removed from the smoking wreckage.

Thirteen survivors were taken to two nearby hospitals.

Dr. McClelland said he was convinced that the search of the wreckage had been completed.

However that total was two short of the original report by Trans-World Airlines that there had been 33 passengers and a crew of three aboard the twin-engine Martin plane.

The TWA said it had located 14 survivors.

No Explanation

There was no immediate explanation of the discrepancy.

Dr. McClelland said the last body removed from the smoking debris was that of Alec Fox, one-time star football player under the late coach Jock Sutherland at the University of Pittsburgh.

Sewickley Valley Hospital said it had received 11 persons injured in the crash, some of them in serious condition.

Two other survivors were treated at St. Clair Hospital and permitted to return to their homes in suburban Pittsburgh.

They were listed by the hospital as John McCarthy, 32, Castle Shannon, and T. J. O'Malley, 39, Whitehall. Their injuries were not serious, the hospital said.

At Sewickley Valley Hospital were:

William Trout, 407 Triangle Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

Joseph Marquis, 3784 Woodrow Ave., Pittsburgh.

Dale Grossman, Centerville, Mich.

Dietrick Timmerman, Allison Park, Pa.

Dorothy Yingling, 708 S. 21st St., Camp Hill, Pa.

Harlan Jersperson, R. D. 1, Morristown, N. J.

Hope Ritter Jr., Bethlehem R.D. Capt. Raymond McQuade, 280 Rutledge Drive, N. J. (no city listed).

Charles Cohn, 523 N. 23rd St., Allentown, Pa.

Mrs. Beatrice Cohn, wife of Charles Cohn.

Charles Cohn Jr., 13, their son.

TWA reported two of the three crew members were among the survivors.

Explosion

The plane burst into flames after a "huge explosion," said Mrs. Jacob Zitko, who lives about a quarter of a mile away. "We heard a rumbling sound, the huge explosion, and the house rocked."

The plane was en route to Newark, N.J. It had scheduled stops at Harrisburg, Reading and Allentown, Pa.

The plane smashed into a hillside just beyond the western runway of the airport which is 22 miles west of downtown Pittsburgh.

Thousands of sightseers at the airport for the Easter Sunday evening outing saw the towering column of flames that flared from the shattered wreckage. A tremendous traffic jam developed as persons in the area tried to approach the scene.

Clayton Hill, a civilian who is assistant fire chief for an Air Force unit stationed at the airport told a reporter:

"We were at the scene within three minutes after the crash."

"Along with fireman Clifford Pifer we pulled 12 persons away from the flames. The 12 apparently had been thrown clear. We couldn't do anything for those inside."

Amidst the survivors on a little knoll and waited for ambulances.

"There are many charred bodies in the wreckage."

A TWA spokesman identified two of the survivors as the pilot, Capt. Raymond F. McQuade, and the co-pilot, Harland V. Jersperson.

Listed as the third crew member was Mary Jane Fanning, 21.

All three crew members were based at Newark, N.J., the airline said.

The crash occurred about 7:20 p.m.

Hill, Riley, Clark Named To New Posts

Riley was born in Philadelphia, but raised at Pocono Manor, Monroe County. Following his graduation from Pocono High School, Tannersville, in 1942, he was employed briefly by Heintz Mfg. Co., Philadelphia.

He served four years in the Army, three of which were spent in the South Pacific. He attended both Banks Business College and LaSalle College, Philadelphia.

Riley joined the staff of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin in January, 1946 and divided his time between newspaper work and WPEN, radio station then owned by the Bulletin.

He became sports editor of The Daily Record on Oct. 27, 1946.

He married the former Carol DeHaven, of Scotrun, in 1948. They and their two children, Barbara, six, and Joey, four, live in Tannersville.

Riley attends Our Lady of Victory Church, Tannersville; is past president of Pocono High School Alumni Association; past president of the Strouds of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League; former treasurer of the Monroe County Softball League; former official scorer in the North Atlantic League; a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Eagles.

He has served as correspondent for the Sporting News.

Carbondale
Clark was born in Carbondale and graduated from Benjamin Franklin High School there. He was sports editor of the Carbondale News-Leader before entering the U. S. Army, where he served three and one-half years, mostly in the South Pacific.

He was sports editor of the prize-winning 1947 Stroud Courier, the newspaper at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. He also worked on the Allentown Morning Call during his college days. Clark joined the Easton Express in 1950 and became assistant sports editor in 1954. He has served as sports correspondent for the Newark Evening News and Newark Star Ledger.

Clark is married to the former Dorothy M. Dawe, of Pen Argyl. They have two daughters, Jocelyn, three years, and Shelley, one month.

April Weather To Be Cool

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The Weather Bureau expects April to be cooler than normal in both eastern and western coastal states.

It issued this report today: "The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for April calls for temperatures to average below normal in states along the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts and also in the Northern Plains.

Above Normal
"Above normal temperatures are indicated in the Southern Plains, Southern Plateau and West Gulf States. In other areas temperatures are expected to average near seasonal normals.

"Precipitation is predicted to exceed normal in the Pacific Northwest and Missouri Valley, and be close to normal in the Middle Atlantic States, Great Lakes region, Ohio Valley and Lower Mississippi Valley. In the remainder of the anticipated."

Secretary Asks For Decision

UNITED NATIONS, April 1 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has asked the 76 U. N. members to say by April 30 whether they agree to postponement of the General Assembly from Sept. 18 to Nov. 12. A simple majority will decide.

He didn't mention it, but the idea is to have the Assembly delay its debating until after the U. S. presidential election Nov. 6.

Mrs. Litts, 73, Dies In East Borough

MRS. MARY AGNES LITTS, 73, of 170 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, died at her home Saturday at 5 a.m.

In failing health the past six months she had been seriously ill the past week. Mrs. Litts was born in England but lived in East Stroudsburg the past 61 years.

She was a member of St. Matthew's Church and the Altar and Rosary Society of that church. Surviving are her husband, Harry B. Litts, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Jeanne Shiffer, Stroudsburg; two grandchildren; four sisters and a brother, all of England.

Requiem mass will be conducted Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in St. Matthew's Church with Rev. Francis Barrett saying the mass. Burial will be made in St. Matthew's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Lanterman funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. Rosary services will be held at the funeral home at 8:15 p.m. today.

Dog Receives Medical Attention

MINNEAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—Reversing the usual situation, a Minneapolis man found a lost bloodhound today.

The animal disappeared 12 days ago while recuperating from an ear operation. Stitches still needed to be removed, so newspapers told of "Drummer's" plight.

85-Year-Old Stroudsburg Woman Dies

MRS. CLARA COUNCELL, widow of Charles Councell, died early Saturday morning at her home in Stroudsburg. She was 85.

She had been in failing health the past eight years. Mrs. Councell had lived in Monroe County the past 30 years where she was a former member of Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Her only survivors are a son-in-law, Dr. W. E. Andrew, Stroudsburg; and a granddaughter.

Graveside services will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Riverview Cemetery, Trenton, N. J. Rev. Frank H. Blatt, pastor of Zion Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, will officiate. Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Rain Swamps Queensland

BRISBANE, Australia, April 1 (AP)—Semiarid southwest Queensland reportedly has had this year the heaviest rains in living memory. Pilots of planes which have flown over the area say hundreds of square miles have been flooded and high grass now grows in spots where none was seen before.

Birdsville, which has an average annual rainfall of six inches, had nine inches in one 24-hour period recently.

Stroudsburg Marine Receives Citation For Flood Labors

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., April 1—Marine Sgt. Harold W. Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Singer, of 31 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, Pa., and husband of the former Miss Delores Horn, of Harrisburg, Ill., received an official commendation from Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, commanding general of the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., last month.

Now in recruit training at Parris Island, Singer received the commendation for his action during the flood of August 18, in Stroudsburg, while a Staff Sergeant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

His citation reads in part:

Wording

"The Commandant takes pleasure in citing S/Sgt. Harold W. Singer for meritorious service as a member of the Sixth Truck Company, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, during the flood in the area of Stroudsburg, Pa."

S/Sgt. Singer immediately started volunteer rescue operations and assisted in the boat evacuation of stranded citizens on Main St.

It was after the flood incident that Singer integrated from the reserve into the regular active service, reporting to Parris Island in December.

He has received the Bronze Star and a Purple Heart for action in Korea as a member of the U. S. Army parachuting 9th Battalion, 2nd Division.

They were awarded when Singer, himself wounded, braved enemy gunfire to rescue two wounded comrades whose machine gun had been knocked out. They were cut off from the unit and Singer made two scrambles to bring them back.

Three years ago at Ft. Breckinridge, Ky., Singer married Miss Horn, who, he says, played a major role in bringing him back to uniform.

"She likes the service life and helped me decide to come back in," he said.

Directors Of Buena Vista Cemetery Announce Perpetual Care Plan For Maintenance Of Plots

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y.—Directors of Buena Vista Cemetery, Inc., located here, have announced the inauguration of their Perpetual Care Plan for maintenance of the Cemetery property.

The new owners of the Corporation are the Zion Lutheran and the Zion Reformed Congregations.

The Corporation will now operate under a perpetual and non-profit charter granted by the State of Pennsylvania with nine Directors responsible for its management.

The Directors to be elected annually, will always be equally representative of each congregation along with a one-third representation from plot owners who may or may not be members from either congregation.

A non-revocable and perpetual trust under the laws of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been created for the investment of all funds now available or to be collected for investment, the interest therefrom to be used only for care and maintenance.

The trustee for the fund is a Stroudsburg Bank, well experienced in handling trusts of this character. The cost involved to each plot owner for perpetual care depends on the size of the plot, the monument, memorial, markers and incidental spacing.

In addition, the directors are prepared to provide other services, such as placing of cut flowers, wreaths, blankets, etc. on special occasions, anniversaries and perform other duties as may be arranged for by endowment in the fund.

Recognizing that no cemetery, now operating, has any assurance whatsoever that its existing schedule of prices will be adequate in the years to come, the directors have attempted to provide for an economic trend based on past experiences of other cemetery associations.

They also are prepared to arrange for special bequests and reservations along with what might be called a limited insurance plan against the non-foreseeable future.

All of this planning will assure a burial site and its maintenance humanely speaking, for all time.

For those who will want to provide for perpetual care on existing plots or purchase plots with perpetual care as will now be the rule and do not care to pay cash, the directors have a unique budget payment plan.

The entire program is the result of much investigating in other sections where medium-sized associations are operating under a successful Perpetual Care Plan.

They also are investigating for an enlargement which will provide adequate facilities for many years to come. A brochure, explaining the entire plan, is being mailed to every plot owner. The directors are making effective rules and regulations having to do with interments, property improvements and maintenance, based on sound business-like methods and strict supervision.

Officers and directors are: Nathan J. Kunkle, president; George T. Dold, vice president and cemetery superintendent; Henry C. Hoffman, secretary; William H. Kresge, treasurer and directors, Amzi F. Altomere; Lloyd S. Altomere; Lizzie Fetherman; Edgar B. Hamm and Ed A. Mill.

Community Is Proud Of Services Furnished By Its 'Service Clubs'

It's customary to think of service clubs as groups of men or women who gather together periodically for the dual purpose of eating and listening to a speaker sound off on his favorite subject.

Newspapers publish the accounts of their regular meetings and any social affairs that are held during the year. And each club keeps its name before the public through some pet community project or projects with which it is identified.

But how do these organizations justify their existence as "service" clubs? That question often arises in the minds of non-members.

Two answers can be found in recent news articles telling of deeds performed by two of the service clubs.

Pocono Chapter of the Jaycees (Junior Chamber of Commerce) distributed $530 last week to four flood-damaged churches here on behalf of the Pennsylvania Jaycee organization. Each church received $132.50 toward meeting expenses resulting from last August's flood.

Since none of the congregations can be considered large or well-to-do, the money can be counted on to meet a real need.

Last Thursday night, the Stroudsburg Lions Club presented a $3,500 check to East Stroudsburg Burgess Jesse S. Flory for use in development of Crestview Heights, a housing tract. The project is intended mainly for flood victims, so any financial help that it receives brings the housing development that much closer to reality.

These are only two of the many worthwhile good turns the service clubs have performed since, and before, the flood occurred. Kiwanis, Rotary, Exchange, Business Women, Junior and Senior Women—these and others have contributed generously out of their modest treasuries, and all have donated their time and service so that their fellow man may enjoy a richer life.

Everyone, including those of us who are not members of a service club, should be proud of what has been accomplished by each and every group. It is comforting to know that when an occasion to serve presents itself, one or more of the service clubs will be there to lend a mighty big helping hand.

April 1 Is A Day Of Celebrations For Residents Of Monroe County

"It's a great day to be alive," said one elderly gentleman yesterday as he and his wife walked home in a bright sun after attending Easter services.

It was a beautiful day, to be sure. The kind of day Christians look forward to for the solemn observance of Easter, the dawn of a new era.

It was the kind of day that gave milady a golden opportunity to appear in her new Spring clothes, topped off perhaps by one of the newest creations in hats that resemble overturned salad bowls, wash basins or cake pans more than they do headpieces.

Children were so engrossed in what the Easter Bunny had brought them that they forgot April 1 is also celebrated as All Fools' Day. Because of coincidence of dates and the added fact that few people were at work or school, the number of practical jokes played on unsuspecting victims probably hit a modern low.

Local residents with a flare for history found an additional reason to celebrate. Yesterday was the 120th anniversary of the founding of Monroe County. It was on April 1, 1836 that Gov. James Ritner approved an act of the General Assembly that carved out parts of Northampton and Pike Counties and merged them into a new county named for James Monroe, fifth president of the United States.

It's been a long time since the county has held a big celebration of its anniversary years. Why not start now to plan ahead for 1961, when the county will be 125 years old? A permanent organization could be set up to lay the groundwork for a gala celebration that would start with some formal ceremony on April 1 and continue through the Summer.

We hope that one of the civic or resort organizations will take the initiative and enlist the cooperation of others in such an undertaking. It could well develop into an event long to be remembered.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Everyone's Guessing What Khrushchev Is Up To In Russia, None Can Be Sure

Something is happening in Russia that is very puzzling but the data is insufficient for anyone to support an opinion. Therefore those who regard themselves as experts or who are inclined to earn a living as such are in the difficult situation of having to make guesses which may come out one way or the other, hoping that a wrong guess will charitably be forgotten.

Some of these experts have come up with the following judgments on what is going on in Russia since Khrushchev delivered two speeches, one lasting seven hours, punctuated by tears; the other lasting three hours and spoken in the most profound secrecy. Maybe it was the second speech that was punctuated by tears. Both speeches were designed to destroy Joe Stalin as a deity and to make him out to be a sadistic madman or something. So, the experts produce the following conclusions:

1. This is an ordinary purge such as Stalin employed from time to time to enhance his power.
2. This is the internal revolution that the West has been looking for.
3. This is the reversion of Communism to Christian decency because the Soviet power is so great that it no longer needs to use murder as a weapon. Proof: Khrushchev did not murder Malenkov.

4. This is all a show put on to fool Eisenhower and Eden.

5. This is essential because the collective leadership could not build its power with the ghost of Stalin always around.

6. Nothing is happening in Russia that does not ordinarily happen as otherwise the leaders would not be chasing all over the world as they are constantly doing.

7. The Russian army is about to take control.

Take your choice and you too will be an expert. Thus far the data that has come out of the Soviet Union State is so scanty that it is practically impossible to evaluate the significance of the course of events. News stories are obviously censored and are very sketchy. Information that comes from underground sources only produces the impression that the collective leadership found Stalin worship a handicap and that the cult of Stalinism endangered the concept of an oligarchical control in a country which has been accustomed to be ruled by an autocrat for a thousand years and more.

It is possible, also, that there is some internal struggle for leadership between Khrushchev and Malenkov who is now in London, being kissed for the benefit of photographers. It is probably untrue that Khrushchev is trying to do much more damage to his brother-in-law, Malenkov, or that Khrushchev would not have gone to England, leaving his rear unprotected.

In a word, while the Russian situation is puzzling, the various guesses do not help us through the maze. The collective leadership may be in a situation very much like our own politicians who most of the time wonder what they will do next, particularly if they are ambitious to be candidates for the Presidency or sit around scheming to be appointed to the Supreme Court or something like that. It might be the same in Russia, except that they do not have elections there, like ours, and it used to be easier to settle public questions by killing an opponent. Now that people like Khrushchev or Mikoyan or Malenkov have gone in for not killing their opposition, it is pretty tough for them to get rid of such people or of each other. They may be engaged at the present time in working out a formula for changes in government without murdering the opposition.

To do that they have to get rid of Stalin's ghost because Stalin's method of promotion and demotion was by murder which is swift and efficient and so competent that Roosevelt gave him $11,000,000,000 to spend as he chose without moral strictures, whereas Hitler and Mussolini were regarded as very bad men. It just goes to show that because Stalin said better words than Hitler did, he could commit the same kind of murders that Hitler committed and get away with it. His successors must look like bunglers because so far they have only killed one big shot, Beria, and nobody complained. In fact, Tito thought it was a good show and made peace with Moscow after grabbing all the money we forced on him.

So, if you want a new parlor game, like the 20 question game before television blighted our homes, try to solve the puzzle as to what Khrushchev is up to, if anything.

In every detail of the services, not only on Easter but beginning Holy Thursday, marking the Last Supper, and including Holy Saturday, commemorating the vigil at the Tomb. Man, in a period of frightful perils, craves to express himself spiritually as seldom before, and a departure from a too formalized service is a help. In a day when hatreds and conflicts are observed all over the earth the words "A NEW COMMANDMENT I GIVE YOU, THAT YOU LOVE ONE ANOTHER" ring out with terrific appeal.

America overdoes special weeks for trivial things, but this is the Week of Weeks in the Christian world that can never be emphasized too much. Other faiths look on with understanding and respect. No creed remains wholly unmovable.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Week That Glows

Even the circus clown — and the newspaper columnist, not so far removed — feel less in a mood for levity this week. The laugh seems out of place in Holy Week. This is a time when vinegar and gall can be sensed on the lips by every man observing the world in anguish and peril, beset by hatreds, suspicions and conflicts. The civilized world can see the road to Golgotha as rarely before. Its hope lies in the stone rolled away. No four words stir the human heart today like "Peace be unto you."

There is something cheering in the fact that most churches, for the first time in generations, are bringing Holy Week services closer to the understanding of all men, though a simplification of rituals and a determination to invite audible participation and intelligent comprehension by the congregation, even at sacrifice of traditional forms. It is one of the big news events of 1956 that the trend is so sharp, and that the Roman Catholic Church, rarely changing its routines, has adopted changes designed to make more vivid to the average man the great messages of the holy season.

With every character-destroying force in the country going all out to reach people through a simple and direct appeal, the churches, the greatest force for good, are now doing likewise. Special emphasis is being put on a warmth of public participation

Pocono Personalities

U.S., Russia To Exchange Data On Earth Satellites

Washington, April 2: The U.S. and Russia have come to an extraordinary scientific agreement.

They will exchange detailed data on their epochal globe-circling satellites. Through scientific representatives on the International Geophysical Year, the two countries have informally agreed to file full information on their history-making satellite projects in three archives that IGY is setting up for this purpose—in Washington, Moscow, and, probably, Brussels, Belgium.

This remarkable understanding is a compromise between the U.S. and the Soviet. Originally, each proposed there be one archive and that it be located in their own capital.

The agreement is known so far only to the Senate Appropriations Committee, where it was brought to light by Senator Warren Magnuson (D-Wash).

At his request, Dr. Joseph Kaplan, chairman, U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year, explained the purpose and scope of this unique scientific program. The IGY starts July 1, and 35 nations are participating in a wide range of land, sea and air research projects.

Concerning the earth satellites, Dr. Kaplan also disclosed:

The U.S. will launch at least six of them; the first early next year. Promising methods are being worked on for bringing the satellites back after circling the globe for a certain period.

Note: Dr. Kaplan, appointed by President Eisenhower as chairman of the U.S. Committee for the IGY, is head of the Department of Physics and Meteorology of the University of California. During World War II he directed a major research agency of the Air Force.

Very Suspicious — The Senate Committee members were bluntly skeptical that Russia will live up to the unannounced accord.

Kaplan was questioned closely about it. Explaining it is an "informal agreement," he stressed two points: "The U.S. has much to gain from this exchange of scientific information, and the Soviet and its satellites have been cooperating on the IGY."

"Suppose Russia doesn't comply with its end of the bargain, and keeps its information to itself?" demanded Senator Magnuson. "What happens then?"

"This is a one-world experiment, and we expect them to cooperate in a scientific spirit," replied Kaplan. "The Soviet data will be extremely valuable to us, and our information will be useful to them. This is not a one-sided arrangement in any sense."

The Broadway Lights

Curtain Time: The Theater week offered mixed excitement for the playboys summoned to judge a pair of newcomers.

"Little Glass" extended its little glass chin at the Golden Theater . . . The "Clock" quit running after eight performances. A $45,000 fiasco featuring Eva Gabor, who tried (with all the others in the ill-fated cast) to make it go . . .

The other new offering was "Mister Johnson" based on the novel by Joyce Cary. The reviewers reported that the drama lights up frequently, while Earle Hyman's performance glows constantly. Critic John Chapman's salute: "A lovely, touching play" . . . "Teahouse of the August Moon" blew ta-ta kisses to Broadway after earning several million dollars. It will continue treasure-hunting in the hinterlands . . . Three of the current attractions are expected to surrender shortly. Only two hits are luring capacity crowds: "No Time for Sergeants" and "My Fair Lady," a pair of acts . . . "The Most Happy Fella," decorated with ribbons by Boston reviewers, will debut here May 3rd.

The Cinemagicians: Van Heflin's latest, "Patterson," is rated a fascinating journey through the jungle of big business. After the manner of "Executive Suite." The theme reminds you that people who worship gold become like gold. Hard, cold and yellow.

Thanks For Years Of Cooperation

By Jim Riley

Now that it's official, it's time for me to say good-bye to the many people with whom I've associated while covering the sports beat in this area for the past 10 years.

It's the toughest task I've been called upon to perform since coming to this newspaper back in 1946. Moving from sports editor to that of news editor is a direct switch and covers a different phase of newspaper operation.

Those people who were once only passing acquaintances, now become direct contacts. Those persons who have been daily contacts on the sports beat in recent years, remain now as friends.

I'm hopeful that friendships constructed during the past 10 years stand fast. I treasure them above all else. My time spent covering sports in this area presented an education impossible to obtain in any college.

I've become close to many individuals and am hopeful that this condition will continue, although we will no longer meet daily. It is my hope that the new contacts and the new friendships I build during the coming years will be as good and true as those found on the sports front.

My interest in area youth will never falter and my love of sports will not grow weaker. Whenever the opportunity presents itself, I'll be on hand at area athletic events. I no longer will be present with pencil and paper, but rather in the form of a loyal spectator.

Even when unable to attend events, I'll be present in heart. I've never knowingly printed a falsehood on the sports page and I will never knowingly allow a similar occurrence to become a reality in the news section. We've disagreed on many things, but never once have I lost respect for those running our athletic programs. I've written uncompromising things from time to time, but I never stopped rooting for area athletes.

Names are too numerous to mention and occasions too difficult to describe. But, I wish to thank everyone who has been so kind to me down through the years and to wish them continued success in their regular walks of life. To the athletes, I say thanks for the carload of thrills and pleasant memories I have stored away. I felt for you during times of failure, but certainly rejoiced in hours of triumph.

Now Bob Clark takes over as sports editor. He's a real sportsman and I know he will do a tremendous job. If you cooperate with Bob, as you cooperated with me, he will be a huge success.

East Stroudsburg Fire Causes $2,000 Damage

Acme Hose Co. Answers Two Alarms

FIRE OF undetermined origin caused upwards to $2,000 damage to a two-story frame apartment building on Crystal St. in East Stroudsburg Saturday morning.

Fire Chief Marvin Abel said the blaze burned out a bedroom in the apartment occupied by the family of Stanley Muffley. The four-family apartment building is owned by the Silverman estate.

The blaze, which broke out about 11:15 a. m., burned out all of the bedding in the room and several dressers and other pieces of furniture, Chief Abel said. The floors also were charred.

Partition

Abel said the fire ate its way through a partition to an unoccupied apartment above. However, damage was largely confined to the Muffley apartment.

Firemen remained at the scene until 12:45 p. m. Acme Hose Co. was called out again Saturday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire on Kistler St., which had gotten out of hand. The blaze caused minor damage to a shed on the lot where the fire was started.

Chief Abel reiterated his plea for residents to exercise extreme caution when starting outdoor fires.

Dengler May Play At Grace's Wedding—But Didn't 'Flip'

A LOCAL MUSICIAN has a chance to go to one of the shindigs at the Grace Kelly wedding in Monaco—but he's not sure he will.

Man under discussion is John Dengler. He's a cornet player, tuba man, all-around musician who has played with several name bands.

Among the most recent has been Stan Rubin's "Tigertown Five," a Dixieland outfit of some repute in the jazz world these days.

This is how Dengler got his "invitation":

A few days ago Rubin approached him and said: "I've got some news here that'll really make you flip."

So what's new? asked Dengler.

We're going to play at Grace Kelly's wedding, said Rubin.

"The news didn't make me flip much," Dengler said.

Why? Well there were a couple of reasons, John indicated. Seems as though the band being invited to play at receptions, cocktail parties, garden teas and Scramble dances prior to or following the nuptials of Grace and Prince Rainier are expected to satisfy themselves with a large hunk of notoriety and "prestige" and little else.

Question

When it comes to the question of "How much does it pay?" the answer appears to be "Not much." In case of the "Tigertown Five," it looks very much as though the answer is "Nothing at all."

In New York, indeed, there was even some question as to who would pay the band's passage (by ship) from New York City to Monaco.

Emmanuel Sacks, vice president of RCA Victor, for which the group records, said Rubin wasn't sure who was going to pick up the transportation tab.

Sacks said Rubin told him the invitation was apparently to "play gratis." It seemed likely the band would appear at the "ceremonial" one of a dozen or more "functions" slated for the week of the wedding.

So far as Dengler is concerned, there are a couple of other things on the fire. He's just back from a tour with Bobby Hackett's new Dixieland group and there may be developments there.

John Pitts, 4, was killed when he fell beneath the wheels of a truck while trying to hitch a ride near his home in South Philadelphia.

Also in Philadelphia, a 68-year-old invalid burned to death in her downtown apartment Friday night. She was Mrs. Lillian Atchison.

Walter H. Eberly, 38, of Lewisburg, died of suffocation around midnight Friday, according to Milford County Coroner Ralph E. Morgan. Eberly's body was discovered late Saturday by a relative, lying in a burned-out bed.

John Simyan, of Moscow, Lackawanna County, was killed early Sunday when the truck he was driving turned over outside Scranton.

Plans For National 'Flyup' Set

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—An ambitious plan to get every flyable airplane in America into the air—if only for a few minutes—during the weekend of May 26 and 27 was announced today.

The mass flight would mark the 29th anniversary of the famous solo flight of Charles A. Lindbergh from New York to Paris in 1927.

Anniversary

Plans for the anniversary observance were developed by a newly formed group of aviation oldtimers, the OX5 Club, named for a Curtiss engine which powered most of the planes flown between 1916 and 1935.

Rus Brinkley of Harrisburg, Pa., founder and acting president of the OX5 Club, announced the coast-to-coast campaign for a national Lindbergh "fly-up." He is aviation director of the WHP-TV news department at Harrisburg.

Bartonsville Boy Completes Training

PVT. DONALD F. Rubino, 17, has completed the requirements for basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

Pvt. Rubino is the first enlisted man sent to take Army basic from Company G, 109th Infantry in Monroe County, under the new National Guard training program.

According to Vincent Marek, first sergeant of the local company, Rubino completed his training last Friday. He went to Fort Jackson in February.

Less Time

Marek said Rubino completed his training in two months—less than the allotted time. During basic the local youth qualified on the M-1, the carbine, light machine gun, heavy machine gun and the 3.5 rocket launcher.

Rubino is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Rubino of Bartonsville. His address is Pvt. Donald F. Rubino, Sup. Co., 506 TON Infantry Regt., Fort Jackson, S. Carolina.

Firemen Find Smoke

SOME 25 Stroudsburg firemen answered an Easter Sunday alarm at the Stroudsburg Engine Works on N. Third St., about 3 p. m., yesterday only to learn that the old adage—"Where there's smoke, there's fire"—doesn't always hold true.

All Smoke

Upon their arrival, the volunteers discovered a lot of smoke had been created because the blower system on an oil burner wasn't functioning properly. There was no damage.

Allentown Minister Dies

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 1 (AP)—The Rev. William S. Harris Sr., for 50 years a pastor in Evangelical United Brethren churches in Eastern Pennsylvania, died yesterday. He was 90.

Mr. Harris came to Allentown to live after retiring in 1939. He held pastorates in Sunbury, Easton, Lykens, Pottstown, Lemoine, Steelton, and Nazareth as well as several others in the Harrisburg area.

Two Monroe County Men To Serve On Depot Grand Jury

TWO MONROE COUNTY residents are among 15 persons who have been summoned as additional members of a Federal grand jury which will look into alleged irregularities at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Among those summoned to report for duty in Scranton tomorrow are Frank Hochriner, a Tobyhanna store clerk, and Lawrence M. Ramsey, East Stroudsburg. Mrs. Anna Carlton, Greentown, Pa., has also been called as a prospective grand jury member.

The probe into the alleged irregularities at the $33-million depot is scheduled to get under way tomorrow, and it is expected that it will be a prolonged one.

Oath

The new jurors will be given the oath by Chief Judge John W. Murphy, who administered the oath to the original grand jury March 13. The 15 were called to augment the original panel members.

The legal minimum for a Federal grand jury is 16. A vote of 12 members is needed for an indictment.

Agents Charge Threat On Ike

DENVER, April 1 (AP)—A federal charge of threatening President Eisenhower's life was placed today against a 35-year-old transient from Inez, Ky.

Earl E. Schoel, head of the Denver Secret Service office, identified the man as Sam Stepp.

Schoel said Stepp declared Monday night in a hotel bar at Buena Vista, Colo., in discussing the President, that, "If I ever get close enough to him I'll kill him. I have a .30-30 bullet for him."

Agents Called

Secret Service agents were called by bar patrons, Schoel said. A statewide alarm was broadcast for Stepp, who was arrested at Glenwood Springs, Colo., Wednesday and transferred here today.

Schoel said Stepp has no known trade and has been traveling around the country. Conviction on the charge would carry a maximum five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Three Hurt In Crash

THREE PERSONS were injured slightly when their car ran off Route 611, near Mount Pocono Saturday morning.

The trio—all from Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., were treated at the office of Dr. John Brundage in Moscow.

Driver

They were Miss Elizabeth Schroek, 42, driver of the car, Mrs. Mary Schroek, 69, her mother; and William Stark, 49.

Miss Schroek told State Police from Mount Pocono that her car skidded out of control on a patch of ice and plunged down an embankment into a wooded area beside the highway.

Shupp To Receive Benefits

(Continued From Page Two) from the operation of their farm in 1955 and whose gross income is $800 or over for 1956, should contact Mr. Bennett any Thursday, beginning at 10:30 a. m. in the basement of Stroudsburg Borough Hall, to see where they stand under social security. In some cases if a farmer had a gross income of less than $800 but a net profit of $400 or more, benefits can also be paid.

All farmers, between the ages of 65 and 72, are urged to contact their social security representative

PP< to Replace Steel Pipe

PENNSYLVANIA Power & Light Co. has announced plans to start work early in June on a steel pipe replacement for the 30-year-old, 14-foot diameter, wood stave flow line which carries water from the company's Lake Wallenpaupack to its hydroelectric plant.

About half of the 3½-mile-long line will be replaced this year and the remainder within the next several years. Preliminary work on the first half of the project is already under way.

During installation, which is expected to take from June 1 to Oct. 1, no water will be moving out of the lake through the flow line. The flow, to accommodate expected inflow, the lake will be brought by June 1 to a level somewhat lower than normal for that time of the year.

10 Feet Higher

However, with no water leaving the lake after June 1 the level will increase all Summer until it reaches, in October, a point about 10 feet higher than normal at that time. Thus, while the lake may be found to be less slightly suitable than usual for some recreational purposes early in the Summer, the chances are this will be more than offset by the higher than normal level during the latter part of the season, a company spokesman said.

The 13-mile lake was built by the company to provide the large storage capacity necessary to supply the 40,000 kilowatt peak load hydroelectric plant. The lake is open to the public as a recreational area.

Four Easter Babies Born

FOUR EASTER babies—three girls and a boy—were born at General Hospital yesterday.

The son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hess of Bangor, while the following parents had baby girls: Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Mount Pocono; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ewe, Stroudsburg RD 3, and Mr. and Mrs. William Fischer Jr., Morrisville RD 1.

Killed In Accident

SCRANTON, April 1 (AP)—John Simyan, of nearby Moscow, Lackawanna County, fell asleep while driving a truck early today and died of a skull fracture when the vehicle turned over, police reported. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Hahemann Hospital here.

Heat Turned On Reds

BERLIN, April 1 (AP)—Premier Otto Grotewohl of East Germany, today turned the heat of criticism upon the Communist Ministry headed by "Red Hilde" Benjamin and accused it of making illegal and "unjustified arrests" of citizens.

Grotewohl's four-hour speech to the East German Communist party Congress in East Berlin was reminiscent of the downfall of Lavrenti Beria, the Kremlin's police czar who was executed on charges of treason long before the start of the current campaign to reduce Stalin from hero to villain.

Beria Accused

Beria, too, was accused of high-handed police action against Soviet citizens. Many of the "mistakes" which the Moscow's "collective leadership" now admits, were laid at his door.

The East German Congress also has approved the anti-Stalin campaign and the "collective leadership" principle handed down from Moscow.

Grotewohl ordered the ministry directed by the much-feared Mrs. Benjamin, to enforce closer control over the courts "to safeguard the rights of citizens" and to rectify "complaints" received from the people by the Communist regime.

32 Meet Death In Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THIRTY-TWO persons were killed in accidents over the weekend in Pennsylvania, including 21 in the Easter Sunday crash of an airliner at Pittsburgh.

The airliner, a TWA twin-engine craft, crashed after taking off from Greater Pittsburgh Airport. Latest reports said there were 13 survivors on the plane.

Near Greensburg Saturday a panel truck crashed into an embankment and overturned, fatally injuring Michael R. Petrusky, 37, Patton, Cambria County.

Cecil Evans, 50, of Huntingdon, W. Va., was found lying dead on the sidewalk outside a hotel in Swissvale Saturday. Police said he apparently fell from his hotel room.

Donald R. Johnson, 22, of Conneautville, R.D. 1, was killed Sunday when his auto overturned on Route 18 about two miles north of Conneautville.

Train

At Lemoyne, near Harrisburg, Saturday, a Reading Railroad freight train struck an auto at a crossing, killing Charles Mason Walls, 18, a high school senior, who was driving the car.

An eight-year-old girl and her two little brothers burned to death in a fire at Mechanicsburg Saturday, despite the heroic rescue efforts of their older sister. The victims were Joan Shearer, Michael, 4, and Harry, 2.

John Pitts, 4, was killed when he fell beneath the wheels of a truck while trying to hitch a ride near his home in South Philadelphia.

Also in Philadelphia, a 68-year-old invalid burned to death in her downtown apartment Friday night. She was Mrs. Lillian Atchison.

Walter H. Eberly, 38, of Lewisburg, died of suffocation around midnight Friday, according to Milford County Coroner Ralph E. Morgan. Eberly's body was discovered late Saturday by a relative, lying in a burned-out bed.

John Simyan, of Moscow, Lackawanna County, was killed early Sunday when the truck he was driving turned over outside Scranton.

East Borough Man Released

AN EAST Stroudsburg man was released under $500 bond after pleading guilty to a drunken driving charge Saturday.

The man, Everett Hunt, 30, was arrested by East Stroudsburg police Friday on Chestnut St.

Hearing

He received a hearing before Justice of Peace Marshall Neyhart of East Stroudsburg.

Hunt also was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving without registration plates.

Burgesses To Roll Out First Eggs

AT 10 A.M. today the burgesses of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will roll out the first egg this morning at Stroudsburg playground.

Burgesses Jesse S. Flory and Hal H. Harris will be officially kicking off the Easter egg hunt sponsored by Pocono Mountains Jaycees for all children in Monroe County.

Beginning at 6 this morning Jaycee members will be occupied with one of their favorite seasonal tasks. They'll be "aiding and abetting" the Easter bunny by hiding eggs at the playground.

Now when the weather catches up with the calendar they'll be all prepared for the weekend decorators and professional painters who each year at this time hasten to take part in "Operation Paint-up."

Fords Made To Protect Human Life

THINKING of buying a new car? If you are, it will be well worth your time to visit Haynes Motors, your local Ford dealer on N. Ninth St., and investigate "LifeGuard Design."

See what it can mean to you and your family's driving safety in the years to come. See actual examples of damaged '56 Fords, see and hear how their occupants were saved from serious injury because of Ford's exclusive LifeGuard design.

More than two years ago, according to Jess Haynes, owner-operator of Haynes Motors, Ford undertook a program of research and testing to determine the causes of accident injuries... so that a safer car could be built.

Safety "accidents" were staged—accidents wherein instruments and cameras recorded and measured the reaction of car "occupants" as well as the behavior of the car itself.

Research Conducted

Many thousands of dollars were spent destroying property in order to find out more about protecting people.

In cooperation with Cornell Medical College, the American College of Surgeons, National Safety Council and others, Ford found that the majority of all serious injuries in accidents were caused by drivers being thrown against the steering post... passengers being thrown forward against hard surfaces inside the car.

It was also found that not all of these injury-caused accidents occur, as you might expect, at high speeds. Several studies showed that a majority occur at speeds under 40 mph.

And so—to protect you against

Carpet Comes In Squares That You Can Lay Yourself

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of feature by-line articles to be presented on The Daily Record Business Review Page. Each will be written by one of the business representatives here. Stories will discuss new products and services on the market and ways in which local businesses can serve you, the customer, more fully.

By Walter Wyckoff
of Wyckoff Floor Covering Dept.

CARPET in 18-inch squares that you can lay yourself, wall-to-wall carpeting in a design of your own making. That is what is offered in a new floor covering of adhesive-backed squares of tufted cotton, laminated to their own carpet cushion.

To lay, simply peel off the protective paper backing, place the square on the floor, and pat it. A sharp knife, razor blade or scissors will cut squares to fit into corners and around pipes.

Here's an opportunity to provide a luxury look, warmth and sound-insulation for rooms that have never had a satisfactory floor covering, including the playroom, den, spare bedroom, closets, and the nursery.

It's a fine idea for apartments, offices and temporary homes, because the squares, called Carpet Squares, can be removed with no harm to the floor.

There are 12 up-to-the-minute colors: Pink, black, gray, turquoise, white, red, charcoal, light green, sandalwood, gold, cocoa and dark green. Your own imagination decides the rest. Create checkerboards, stripes, activity areas, borders or simply a beautiful expanse of solid color.

One decorator has done a room in black Carpet-Squares with a white border, plus a single square of turquoise and one of gold—for accent.

Decro-Wall Is Simple To Apply

A NEW PLASTIC dimensional wall paneling, introduced by Paint Service Center, 517 Main St., now allows you to reproduce the rustic warmth of authentic, natural textured beauty without the high cost of conventional construction.

The new product is called Decro-wall. Not a flat wallpaper, it is a full-dimensional textured panel available in six realistic surfaces of authentic brick and stone.

Anyone can apply Decro-wall quickly and easily without tools or special experience, the Paint Service Center points out.

Factory Cut
Decro-wall comes factory cut in approximately 2'x4' rigid sheets, with complete instructions for installation. It goes right over existing walls, whether they be rough or smooth, papered or plastered. No preparation is necessary.

It is made of abrasive-resistant vinyl which will not support combustion. Dead air space behind bricks and stone serves as excellent insulation. And Decro-wall's yieldable nature provides extra safety such as in children's play and rumpus rooms.

It can be installed in an evening. No upkeep expenses—grease and stain resistant Decro-wall surfaces are easily cleaned with a damp cloth, and if desired can be painted with most available paints.

board-fashion (parallel to the wall) while a living room has been covered in white and gray, harlequin-style (laid diagonally).

The squares may be used on any clean, dry surface, free from wax and dirt. They'll even adhere to the wall. (Maybe that's an idea, too). When removed, the floor will not have been harmed.

Easy To Clean
Once installed, they're simple as any carpet to vacuum and clean. If any one square should be damaged by a cigarette burn or other type of accident, it can be replaced with a new one or switched with a clean one from under a sofa or chair.

Here is a chance to have something entirely individual without paying custom prices; the squares, produced by Allen Industries, are $1.69 each.

Carpet Squares are sold in the Floor Covering Department of Wyckoff's Department Store.

Although aged people have more long illnesses, they have fewer short illnesses than younger people.

April Offers Everything From Circus To Kitchen Tour

The tempo of Spring activities is increasing and the general public will be invited to support many varied activities in April and May according to the Women's Club Clearing House Calendar for special events, announced yesterday by Mrs. Robert Hellmann, chairman.

The calendar lists only those special events requiring public support, and is an attempt to avoid competition by groups for the same audiences.

Concerts, fashion shows, a circus, spring meetings and—something new this year—a kitchen tour, will add variety to the spring offerings. The April calendar includes the following:

Friday, April 6—Stroud Township Fire Department's annual dance.

Tuesday, April 10—Woman's Club benefit card party at Mrs. Gerald O'Neill's home, Thomas St., Stroudsburg, 8 p.m.

Thursday, April 13—Tulsa Chorus concert, sponsored by Varsity E. Club at East Stroudsburg Jr. High Auditorium, 8:15 p.m.

Saturday, April 14—East Stroudsburg Area Joint School system square dance, sponsored by the PTA, at East Stroudsburg High gym, 8:30 to 12.

Thursday, April 19—Spring Fashion Show, sponsored by the Stroudsburg Little League Mothers, in Stroudsburg High Aud., 8 p.m.

Friday, April 20—East Stroudsburg Area Jr. and Sr. School Band Concert, Jr. High auditorium, 8 p.m.

Saturday, April 21—Circus, sponsored by American Legion, at East Stroudsburg Playground, 2 performances.

Tuesday, April 24—Women's Club Kitchen Tour, benefit of home for aged, afternoon and night.

Wednesday, April 25—Kitchen tour continued, afternoon and night.

Thursday, April 26—Dutch Treat Dinner, Penn-Stroud Hotel. Spring dinner meeting of Girl Scout Council at Penn-Stroud, 6:30 p.m.

Friday, April 27—Stroudsburg High School Band Concert at Stroud High School, 8 p.m.

Preview Of May
Events for May, listed in advance, open with a two-night performance of "Brigadoon," by the Community Chorus on Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5. The annual meeting of the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society will be held Tuesday, May 15; and the final Community Concert on Wednesday, May 16.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's interesting to speculate on how many young toes will be sprouting blisters today, and how many young noses will be running. High heels and no coats will do the trick every time.

And the reason you worry about the middle-aged set is because they are the Easter parade in the Stroudsburgs, what there is of it.

Our adults lean to the conservative in dress and in manner. They looked mighty handsome, it's true, but there were few of those big washtub hats which the high fashion experts said would be in style. The hats were small, for the most part, and flowered. As a concession to fashion they were set a little squarer on the head, and perhaps bloomed a little wider, but last year's Easter bonnet would have been perfectly proper.

As for the suits — you could scarcely tell because grown-ups with a wary eye on that beautiful day still cling to their winter coats for the most part. And hurried home right after church to supervise the dinner and try to put a damper on the amount of eggs—chocolate and otherwise—consumed before dinner.

The younger set needed no sympathy either. Oh there may have been a few protests about taking off their Easter finery before the egg hunt, but overalls and sweaters felt so comfortable that they soon forgot about them.

It's the middle-aged heart goes out to. Their first high heels for instance can't be wasted on that brief trip to and from the car, though that's about the mileage they're comfortable for. That new dress they've dreamed over is no good hidden under a coat, and the sun was warm. So who could blame them if they carried their coats as soon as they were in a heavy and out of sight of parental eyes.

The trouble with parents is that so dismally often, they're right. However, blisters, well-taped and worn with comfortable shoes, will heal, and healthy young things can throw off a cold. I do hope they baked in enough admiring glances to make it worth while.

Mothers Club Tuesday

The Mothers Club of the YMCA will meet on April 3 at 8 p.m. at the YMCA.

The Elton Halls Feted At Party By Grace Class

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hall were feted at a farewell covered dish supper held on Monday, March 26, in the social room of Grace Lutheran Parish House. The occasion was held under the auspices of the Frank B. Michaels Bible Class of the Church School of which Elton has been assistant teacher, substituting on numerous occasions for their octogenarian teacher, Frank B. Michaels. The Halls will leave in the near future for Oneonta, N. Y., where Mr. Hall has been named general manager of the Oneonta Star, one of the Ottawa chain.

H. L. Cleveland, class president, served as toastmaster. He, in turn, called upon Michaels, Fred Eyer, class vice-president, and Pastor Wunder, who each brought greetings and appropriate remarks. Fifty members of the class were present. Stanley Woolbert led in the singing of "Auld Langsyne." The class presented Mr. and Mrs. Hall with two gifts as a parting gesture of their appreciation for their work with the class.

Good Records In Household Save On Tax

New York (AP)—Do you keep good household records?

Income tax time is here again and you can probably save the family important sums if your records for the past year are in good shape, says S. Jay Lasser, tax expert.

If you failed to keep complete accounts, here are some things Lasser suggests you watch this year:

How about clothes, food, books, furniture you give to organizations authorized to accept tax-free contributions? If you will get a letter from the organization indicating the value of what you give, you can take a tax deduction on that value.

Do you drive your car for the Red Cross? Expenses for which you are not reimbursed are deductible. These can include not only gas and oil, but even car washes and flat tires.

Food you contribute to a church supper, picnic baskets and similar items are also deductible, if you donate them to authorized organizations, like churches.

Your medical bills can also be important and can include items that might be easy to miss. Did the doctor tell you to buy special socks for Junior's athlete's foot? They can be included as a medical item.

Lasser also suggests you save your drug store receipts. They can count up in a year's time. But remember that only health items are included in the medical bill, not beauty supplies. Baby oil is medical. Toothpaste, shampoo and cosmetics are not. And rental of health supplies, like a vaporizer can go on the medical bill.

Another medical expense sometimes forgotten is the cost of traveling to and from a doctor. It can be important if you are going to a pediatrician regularly with an infant. And if your doctor should order a trip to Florida for health reasons, that too, is included. But check your limits on medical bills.

Also, you may be able to deduct all or part of baby sitters costs if you have a sitter when you leave for paid employment. There are several limitations on such deductions which you should check in the tax instructions.

Quilting Ends For Aid Society Of Mount Eaton

Stroudsburg—The Ladies Aid of Mt. Eaton Church met Wednesday for their final day of quilting until next fall. Just one remaining quilt was completed. Mrs. John Siegel and Mrs. Bessie Alexander, treated the ladies at noon for their dinner, since Mrs. Siegel observed her birthday on the 29th. She and Mr. Siegel are leaving for Detroit to spend two weeks with their son, Harold and family.

Others present were, Mrs. Alfred Getz, Mrs. Rosa Butts, Mrs. Sarah Dorshimer, Mrs. John Kostendamer, Mrs. Norman Greenmoyer, Mrs. Anna Raseley, Mrs. Mathew Kresge, Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. Abbie Faustick, Mrs. Harold Altomose, Mrs. William Faustick, Mrs. Grant Knowles, Miss Florence Faustick, Mrs. Ruth Shoemaker and Mrs. Claude Eckley. The women having completed another successful season, apply part of their earnings in helping to redecorate the church.

Wonderful for Sunday brunch!

Kitchen economy: The uncooked heart and gizzard of a small broiling chicken may be brushed with melted butter or margarine and broiled with the rest of the chicken during the last 15 or 20 minutes of cooking. Turn the heart and gizzard as necessary.

Possinger-Hillyerd Wedding

Miss Charlotte Wava Hillyerd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Britten Hillyerd of Columbia, New Jersey, became the bride of Ernest William Possinger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Possinger, Sr. of 452 Chestnut Street, East Stroudsburg, at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon before the lily-covered altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. The double-ceremony was solemnized by Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church minister, in the presence of many relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white knit woolen suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Miss Ariene Brands of Columbia, was maid-of-honor. She wore a blue knit woolen suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy-blue street length dress with white accessories and wore a pink rose-bud corsage. The bride's mother wore a navy-blue street length dress, black accessories and a pink rose-bud corsage.

John Hillyerd, brother of the bride, and Earl Wilson served as ushers and Edwin W. Melvin as acolyte. Miss Joyce Bond sang a soprano solo, "Because" prior to the wedding. Miss Bond also sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte as the bridal couple knelt before the altar on a white satin pillow during the wedding prayers. Mrs. Raymond Herman presided at the organ console and also accompanied Miss Bond.

Lawrence Dildine was best-man.

The bride was graduated from Belvidere High School with the class of 1951 and is presently employed by the Tung-Sol Electric Corporation, Washington, N. J. The bridegroom attended East Stroudsburg High School and served for 43 months in the U. S. Navy in the Pacific and Atlantic theaters of operation. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Volkert on Franklin Hill with 100 guests enjoying the nuptial festivities. The newlyweds will make their home at 452 Chestnut Street.

Full Use Of Household Tools Save Housewife

Are you making full use of the labor saving devices in your home?

Today's housewives are discovering many new short cuts to old chores, by using their appliances with imagination. The modern vacuum cleaner, for instance, can be used for many more things than simply cleaning the floors. Here are a few novel uses reported by a Brooklyn manufacturer, from letters sent in by housewives all over the country.

A woman in San Francisco, cleaned out a nest of yellow jackets in the attic by applying the powerful suction of her vacuum cleaner hose.

A man in White Plains, New York, uses the blower end of his vacuum cleaner to inflate his son's rubber wading pool. Many mothers have discovered, too, that this is the easy way to blow up balloons for children's parties.

Secretaries use the vacuum cleaner to clean dust from their typewriters, and housewives use it to empty ash trays the morning after a party.

When it is time to store winter clothes, the vacuum cleaner does a fine job of removing dust from coats—much easier than brushing. And the sprayer attachment, of course, may be used for spraying moth proofing products into the clothes closet.

Vacuum cleaners also are used to speed up defrosting of the refrigerator, drying hair or clothes and pumping up tires.

Postpone Meeting

Sesame Wafers Add Spice To Ladies Lunch

Using up the contents of the Easter basket and entertaining "the girls" at the same time serves a double purpose and the following menu is spiced by some unusual cookies adapted from a recipe by California's cookbook author, Helen Evans Brown.

With a salad of deviled eggs, cucumber and water cress, hot anchovy biscuits, baked fruit compote and sesame wafers, topped off by a beverage turn the trick.

The recipe for Sesame Wafers: Ingredients: 1/4 cup margarine, 1/3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, 1/2 cup flour (sift before measuring), sesame seeds.

Method: Cream margarine, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in flour until blended. Drop level teaspoonfuls of the dough, 1 inch apart, on buttered cookie sheets. Have a cup of water with a couple of ice cubes in it handy. Dip a small spatula in the ice water and flatten each cookie with cold wet blade so it is the size of a quarter. Sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—9 to 12 minutes. Cool on rack; store in tightly covered container. Makes about 5 dozen.

S and D of L Tues.

The Sons and Daughters of Liberty will hold an Easter party after their lodge meeting on Tuesday night at 8 at the Odd Fellows Hall, featuring a covered dish supper.

Trail - - By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — Some stories practically write themselves. Others are the product of phrases coming reluctantly and execrably from the pen, and painfully.

But the toughest of all is that which concerns the passing of a friend, as each word brings the vivid picture of a vibrant personality. You see him seated nearby at his typewriter, dapper and immaculate as he composes some of the sweetest prose you would care to read. You hear him telling his latest story, with an explosive little chuckle as he reached the point.

So maybe the best way to tell about our late colleague, Gayle Talbot, is to try to forget sentiment and give a factual account of the sweet guy as we knew him.

Sweet Guy Fits

He wouldn't like that sweet guy appellation, but it fits. He was a sweet guy, but also a very positive, determined fellow who loved an argument and who wouldn't back down for any man.

He was a little on the small side, plumpish, with knowing eyes peering through steel-rimmed specs and his face constantly wearing a whimsical expression as if secretly amused by life in general. He would ease around serenely, never hurrying, the picture of bland self confidence. Yet, as a perfectionist, he labored over his work to produce the smooth-flowing sentences that were a sheer delight to read.

"The Atomic Twins"

He had a genius for the apt phrase, the pin-pointed description. Who but Gayle Talbot would designate Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis when they were such a devastating force in the Army backfield a decade ago as "the atomic twins"?

He could, and did, write about anything and everything, and no matter what the subject his finished product, typed with the care and precision that were a trademark, was a little masterpiece in itself.

We recall one dull winter day, bleak and chill, when he glanced from the window at the ice skaters on the Rockefeller Center rink, commented on the abbreviated costumes of the performers, and promptly wrote a highly-entertaining story comparing the skating attire of today with that of years gone by.

Devoted Husband

A devoted husband and the father of two fine teen-age daughters, he loved his home in Long Island's Port Washington. On summer weekends he would labor happily in the yard until Monday mornings found him sunburned and aching, but content in his weariness as he told in detail of his war on crabgrass and the progress of his new hedge.

He detested phones, and could spot one a mile away, and when he decided such an individual rated censure in print he virtually could take the hide off with one deft word or phrase.

We saw him last 10 days ago in Tampa, where he died suddenly last Thursday, and we heard his last joke. We can see him now, propped up in bed and chuckling as he told of the Texan who had three swimming pools — one filled with ice water for his rugged friends, a second containing warm water for his friends with more sensitive skins, and the third empty, for his pals who couldn't swim.

There never was anything negative about the little guy. As Spike Classen remarked so pertinently: "He was a cocky little so-and-so, but we all loved him."

Buffalo Evens Calder Series In AH Loop

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 1 (AP) — Buffalo bounced back into the American Hockey League Calder Cup playoff picture with a 4-1 triumph over Providence today in Memorial Auditorium to deadlock the best-of-five series at two games apiece.

The Bisons, beaten 8-2 last night scored three times in the opening period to settle the issue early. Lou Jankowski, Kenny Wharram and Chuck Blair were the sharpshooters.

The lone Providence score came in the same period when Aldo Guidolin slipped a low shot into the net on Bill Folk's rebound. The final Buffalo score came in the last period when rookie Elmer Vasko found an opening from 30 feet out.

Three brawls broke out during the contest. In the second period Jack McIntyre and Jim Bartlett started a slashing duel that ended in a fight. Each drew ten minute misconduct penalties. Near the end of the same period the same pair went at it again and were handed majors.

In the final period Buffalo goalie Hank Bassen and Aldo Guidolin battled in front of the Bisons' cage to draw fighting majors and most of the players on the ice became involved. Only Buffalo's Vic Dzurok drew an additional penalty however.

Friend, Score, McDermott Show Mid-Season Form In Action On Grapefruit Front

NEW ORLEANS, April 1 (AP) — Pitcher Bob Friend held the Kansas City Athletics to four hits today as the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the A's 8-1 in an exhibition game.

Friend retired the Athletics in order in five of the innings and became the first Pirate to pitch a full game this year. He struck out four and walked two.

The Athletics got their only run in the fifth inning on a single by Joe Demaretti, a double by Troy Heriague and an infield out.

The Pirates got six runs in the first inning. They got another in the second and the last in the ninth.

Jack Shepard led the Pirates 11-hit attack with three singles.

McDermott On Beam
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1 (AP) — Left-handed Mickey McDermott went the route today, spinning a six-hitter as the New York Yankees defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2. The decision snapped a five-game losing streak for the American League champs.

McDermott, who was secured from Washington on Feb. 14, became the second Yankee hurler to go the distance. Don Larsen worked a complete game for the "B" squad against Richmond of the International League last Friday.

Giants Wallop Cubs
PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1 (AP) — The New York Giants closed out their 1956 stay in Arizona by walloping the Chicago Cubs 7-2 today.

Home runs by Dusty Rhodes, Daryl Spencer and Gail Harris helped the Giants to a five-run rally in the first inning and thereafter the New York club coasted.

Southpaw ace Johnny Antonelli pitched the first seven innings for the Giants and checked the Cubs on three hits and one run, a seventh inning homer by Pete Whisenant. The other Cub run came on a homer by Ernie Banks off right-hander Steve Rickard in the eighth.

Sparks Brooklyn
TAMPA, Fla., April 1 (AP) — A single by rookie outfielder Gino Cimoli in the 11th inning scored Gil Hodges with the run that gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox today.

A crowd of 6,507, largest ever to see an exhibition game in Tampa, saw the Sox get at least one hit in every inning for a total of 14 to the world champion's eight.

The victory, however, may have been costly for the Dodgers. Sandy Amoros, leading candidate for one of the outfield posts, suffered a possible fracture of the right ankle sliding to second base in the 10th. He was taken to a nearby hospital for X-rays.

Scoring Off
As ABC Moves
Into 5th Week

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 1 (AP) — Scoring continued low today as the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress tournament moved into its fifth week of a 19-day run.

A squad of 16 entrants in the minor divisions failed to produce a single change among the top ten in singles, doubles or all-events.

Top individual score today was turned in by William Raterson of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who shot 594 in singles on games of 110, 226 and 192. The singles division is paced by Tony Sparano of Rome Park, N. Y., with 119.

Doubles Low
In the doubles, R. E. Byrnes and F. J. Kohnbacher of Buffalo, N. Y., totaled 1,099 for the day's high score. Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago lead the doubles with 1,331.

Richardson Wins
KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 1 (AP) — Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., won the Caribbean Tennis Championship today with a fine all-court game, defeating Vic Seixas of Philadelphia 8-6, 8-3, 6-2.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1 (AP) — Herb Score yielded only one hit and struck out four batters in pitching five scoreless innings today as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 in their farewell performance here this spring.

The young southpaw ran his strikeout total to 13 for the 17 innings he has pitched since the exhibition season opened.

The victory gave the Indians the cactus league championship with a 14-8 record. The New York Giants were champs last year.

Newcombe Belted
ORLANDO, Fla., April 1 (AP) — Roy Sievers and Jose Valdivielso slammed three-run homers off Don Newcombe today as Washington humiliated Brooklyn's "B" team, 13-2, behind the five-hit pitching of Camillo Pascual.

Newcombe was belted for 10 hits in the six innings he pitched, gave up four walks and unleashed a wild pitch. He was further hampered by five errors, three by shortstop Jasper Spears.

Phils Edge Redlegs
CLEARWATER, Fla., April 1 (AP) — Joe Lonnett's single with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 exhibition victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs today.

The Phillies went into the ninth one down and tied the score when relief pitcher Hersell Freeman walked Ted Kazanski, forcing in a run.

In the fourth, with the Redlegs leading 2-1, Stan Lopata hit a three-run homer over the center-field fence, which is 25 feet high and 400 feet from the plate. It was called the longest blast ever seen in Clearwater.

Sullivan Rapped
SARASOTA, Fla., April 1 (AP) — The Detroit Tigers belted Boston ace Frank Sullivan for eight hits and all their runs today while defeating the Red Sox for the second straight day, 6-3.

After being retired in succession in the first three innings, the Tigers scored three runs in the fourth on Harvey Kuenn's single, Earl Torgeson's triple and doubles by Al Kaline and Ray Boone.

Detroit picked up three more in the seventh off Sullivan, who had an earned run average of 1.00 in 18 previous innings this spring.

Ted Williams, sidelined with a groin injury since March 13, returned to action and singled in four times at bat.

Braves Top Atlanta
ATLANTA, April 1 (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves made it two in a row over Atlanta today, downing their Southern Association farm club, 10-2, in an exhibition.

The Braves pushed over three runs in the fifth and added six more in the sixth, including three on Jim Pendleton's homer. Eight of the Braves' runs were unearned, as Atlanta committed five errors.

Globetrotters Top
All-Stars Twice

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — The Harlem Globetrotters swept both ends of a day-night doubleheader from the College All-Stars today by taking the night game 72-64 before 10,085 in Madison Square Garden.

An afternoon crowd of 12,135 witnessed the Globetrotters' 61-52 victory over the same All-Stars in a game which opened the seventh annual cross country tour of the troupe which will cover 20 games in 18 cities in as many days with Boston Monday night's stop.

Hack Feels Chicago Cubs Will Make National's First Division This Year

By Bob Myers
MESA, Ariz., April 1 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs were drifting off the playing field late one afternoon after having blown a game to the New York Giants, and a visitor from the Windy City itself intoned in something less than elegant grammar:

"They got nothin'. Not nothin'." Which is one way of looking at the Cubs' prospects, as some others around the cactus circuit do. But it does not reflect the no less expert opinion of others, including Stanley Hack, the never-say-die skipper of the club.

The aggressive Mr. Hack firmly believes he has five capable, if not outstanding, pitchers for starting roles. He thinks he has the finest defensive infield in the National League, and he is satisfied with his catching.

Counting On Banks
And with shortstop Ernie Banks smacking out 44 home runs and batting .295 last year—and capable of doing it again—and with first baseman Doc Fondy and Monte Irvin fully able to break up any ball game, Hack is not unhappy with his offensive forces.

He is concerned, of course, with the outfield as a whole—defensively as well as for the big hit. Centerfield seems to be the major problem.

Drake Is Ready
At the moment Irvin, erstwhile hard hitting stalwart of the New York Giants and still a fielding artist, and rookie Walter Moryn played satisfactorily in left and right fields.

And Solly Drake, perhaps the fastest man in the league, seems to have the inside track on centerfield. Drake one spring ago was a sensation. Then he broke his leg.

The leg is all right, but it remains to be seen if he can play major league ball over a season. Hack has no hesitation naming his starting pitchers—Bob Rush, Russ Meyer, Warren Hacker, Sam Jones and Paul Minner. All are quite capable, says Hack.

"Once we get going," predicted Hack, "I honestly believe we'll make it into the first division. We only missed it by 4½ games last year, and I think we are definitely stronger this year."

Heart Is Set
"My heart is set on the Olympics," says Russell. "I think I have a good chance of making the basketball squad, and I'd like to make the track and field team as well. Whichever way it goes, I want to make the Olympics—period."

On the basis of past performances, Russell wouldn't be a very good bet to make the track team right now. By the time the teams are picked in late summer, however he hopes to be in strong contention.

May Try Hurdles
"I think I might be able to make it in the 400-meter hurdles," he says. "I've run the 440 in 49.6. That's not fast, but with some practice I could cut two seconds off that time—easily. I've run the hurdles once or twice. I've got a good stride and good stamina."

Last spring I cleared 6 feet 7½ in the high jump—with almost no practice. If I were real lucky I might get up to 7 feet or 7 feet 1. And I tried the broad jump once or twice, got up to 23 feet 7. I don't know what I might be able to do if I concentrated on it.

"Anyway, I can always dream, can't I?"

Might Coach
"I might coach if I had a teaching job in some small town, where the staff was small," says Russell. "But I'd be pretty big out there on the floor with high school players, wouldn't I?"

Coach Phil Woolpert, who made Russell into the nation's outstanding defensive man in basketball, says the ace of the Dons would be just as outstanding in the pro ranks.

Write Own Ticket
"Bill could just about write his own ticket," says Woolpert. "That will come later. The ticket that Bill wants now is for Melbourne and the 1956 Olympics."

Mike Souchak Stroke Victor In Dixie Open

WILMINGTON, N.C., April 1 (AP) — Mike Souchak rolled in a five-foot putt for a birdie on the last green today to win the Azalea Open golf tournament by one stroke from Dick Mayer.

The 210-pound Souchak, former Duke University football end who plays out of Grossingers, N.Y., matched Mayer's four under par 68 finish to preserve the one-stroke lead which he had held over the St. Petersburg, Fla., professional at the start of the round.

Victory was worth $2,200 of the total pot of $12,500 to the 28-year-old Souchak, who boosted his stock for the Masters Classic opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga. He tied for fourth place last year in his first appearance in the blue ribbon event.

15 Under Par
Souchak was 15 under par for 72 holes over the 6,795-yard Cape Fear Country Club course on rounds of 70-70-65-68. He pushed his official PGA earnings for the year to $6,900.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., pro, who led the first two days and was tied with Souchak and Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., starting today's play, shot 71 for 276 and third place worth $1,170.

Ford Is Fourth
Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y., finished with 67 for 27 and fourth money of $980.

Holscher tumbled to 75 and a six-man tie for eighth at 280.

Pass Steal At End Nips Phila. 84-83

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 1 (AP) — Rookie Corky Devlin stole a Philadelphia pass with 28 seconds remaining to nip chances for a Warrior victory and give Fort Wayne a 84-83 victory in the National Basketball Assn. championship final. The best-of-seven series is now tied at one game each.

George Yardley, with 30 points, pushed his two game total to 57. The former Stanford star moved over the St. Petersburg, Fla., professional at the start of the round.

Victory was worth $2,200 of the total pot of $12,500 to the 28-year-old Souchak, who boosted his stock for the Masters Classic opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga. He tied for fourth place last year in his first appearance in the blue ribbon event.

Winning Margin
Yardley's two free throws with 42 seconds to go were the points that tipped the balance, but it took Devlin's interception to save the day. Philadelphia's last lead came with exactly one minute remaining when Ernie Beck, hero of Philadelphia's 98-94 Saturday victory, preceded Yardley with two from the free throw line.

Beck Held To
Yardley, guarding Beck through most of the game, held the rookie from Pennsylvania to nine points.

Neil Johnston, second high scorer for the Warriors through the season, got 15 points tonight — five more than his first-game performance.

Return To East
The teams travel back to Philadelphia for the third game Tuesday night.

Barons Grab 2nd Straight Overtime Win

CLEVELAND, April 1 (AP) — The Cleveland Barons defeated the Pittsburgh Hornets 5-4 tonight for their second consecutive overtime victory and took a 2-1 lead in the semi-final Calder Cup playoff series of the American Hockey League.

Right wing John McLehlan converted on a blast from near the blue line by Ian Cushman at 8:10 of the scheduled 20-minute sudden death overtime period to give Cleveland the victory. Both teams failed to score in the first 10-minute overtime.

Scores 2 Goals
Joe Klukay scored two goals and Bob Hassard made one for Pittsburgh in the last 10 minutes of the third period to knot the court at 4-4.

Cleveland gained a 2-1 lead in the first period during a string of penalties. Gerry Foley of Pittsburgh scored the first goal, but Steven Kraftcheck and Jack Gordon put Cleveland ahead. In the second period, the Barons extended their margin to 4-1 on goals by Jim Farelli and Gordon Vejprava.

Earlier Results
Pittsburgh won the first game of the series 3-1 and Cleveland evened it with a 6-4 overtime victory at Pittsburgh last night. The fourth game will be played here Tuesday night.

Giambra, Martinez Choices To Post Fight Wins In Week

By Murray Rose
The Associated Press
MIDDLEWEIGHT Joey Giambra and welterweight Vince Martinez, a couple of ring adonies with title aspirations, are favored to win in the featured bouts of the week's boxing program.

Giambra, of Buffalo, N.Y., meets rugged Johnny Sullivan of England, in a radio - television (NBC-TV, radio, 10 P.M., EST) 10-rounder at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium Friday night. The Friday night fights are on the road until May 25 because the circus has taken over Madison Square Garden.

Is Rated High

A high-ranking 160-pounder until he went into the army, the 24-year old Giambra is determined to fight his way back to the top and into a title fight this year. Just before he received his army discharge, he lost a close, split decision to Carl (Bobo) Olson, then the champion.

Giambra's record is 42-4-1 with 24 knockouts. Sullivan, winner of four fights in U. S. this year, has a 65-18-3 record with 35 knoxes.

Other featured fighters in action around the country include welterweight contender Paul Jorgensen and lightweight Johnny Gonsalves. Willie Pastrano, seventh ranking light-heavy contender from New Orleans, who has an unbeaten streak of 16, meets strapping Johnny Arthur of South Africa at New Orleans Wednesday night.

Jorgensen, ninth ranking featherweight contender from Port Arthur, Tex., faces Dave Walkden of Youngstown, O., at Houston in another Monday night scrap. Gonsalves, No. 7 among the Frank Sidmore at Fresno, Calif., Tuesday night.

The same pilots responsible for establishing new marks in stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Fla., a few weeks ago, will endeavor to reduce the standards for the mile and the 150-mile events at the Bucks County speedway.

Bill France, prexy of NASCAR, predicts the top flight late model negotiators will surpass all existing marks when the NASCAR sanctioned 150-mile Grand National Championship is presented around the fast dirt raceway April 22.

Trotters, Pacers Set For Roosevelt

WESTBURY, N.Y., April 1 (AP) — The trotters and pacers return to metropolitan New York tomorrow night with Queen's Adios heading a field of six in the $7,500 inaugural pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

Queen's Adios, who won a heat of the Little Brown Jug last year in world record time of two minutes flat, is one of the three side-wheelers in the race who have paced a mile in two minutes or faster. The others are Brave Scott and Dottie's Dick.

The horses will race 96 nights at Roosevelt before shifting to Yonkers, N.Y., in August for the remainder of the season.

Jose Aguero of Tulane is ranked first in the 1955 national collegiate tennis rankings.

Federal Tax Return Forms Mailed

QUARTERLY Federal Tax Returns, Forms 941, covering payment of income and social security taxes by employers; Quarterly Tax Returns, Forms 942, covering payment of social security taxes by household employers; and Quarterly Federal Excise Tax Returns, Forms 720, were placed in the mails last week, it was announced today by F. P. Graham, Stroudsburg District Director of the Internal Revenue Service.

"Original copies of these returns are pre-addressed and pre-numbered by addressograph plates,"

The addressograph system in operation at the Stroudsburg Office can operate with maximum efficiency only with the filing of the pre-addressed forms. In addition to an identification number, the original copy of each quarterly return is imprinted with a master list number which is an important key in the filing and processing of these returns by the Internal Revenue Service," said Mr. Graham.

Mr. Graham further stated that the issuance of blank quarterly tax returns presents a costly processing problem when taxpayers or their representatives file returns which have not been pre-addressed by means of addressograph plates to show the identification and master list numbers. For that reason taxpayers, accountants, attorneys, and tax practitioners are requested to file only the original copies of returns which were pre-addressed and numbered and mailed to taxpayers.

Mr. Graham emphasized that District Directors are empowered to deny requests for extra copies of blank forms from accountants, attorneys, tax practitioners, etc., who repeatedly submit returns prepared in a manner which prevents the addressograph system from operating with maximum efficiency. However, he said, "Requests for blank copies of the forms received from responsible accountants, attorneys, and tax practitioners showing a willingness to cooperate will be honored."

The director advised that if the original copy of a return is lost, a request for a blank return made by mail, telephone or in person should be accompanied by taxpayer's name, address and identification number to enable pre-addressing and numbering of the return before it is mailed or delivered to the taxpayer or his representative. Should it be necessary to use a blank form, not pre-addressed, care should be exercised to show the taxpayer's name and identification number exactly as they appear on previous forms.

Every employer subject to employment taxes who has not registered or who has not applied for an identification number should do so at once. The required registration form, SS-4, can be obtained from the District Director or the nearest office of the Social Security Administration. The SS-4 should be filed with the District Director when it is completed.

Employers are reminded that where employer and employee taxes exceed $100 a month they must make deposits of the taxes with government depositaries. A civil penalty is provided for the willful failure of an employer to make monthly deposits of taxes.

Every employer who owes employment taxes for the first quarter of 1956 must file a return on Form 941 and make the final payment on or before April 30, 1956. Employers are urged to make timely returns and payments to avoid penalties and interest which may be imposed for late filing or failure to file.

As Malenkov, the dean and Malenkov's six-man security guard walked down a side aisle they met the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who was walking in procession after attending evening service.

The dean extended an arm toward Malenkov as though to introduce him to the archbishop.

Dr. Fisher, spiritual leader of the Anglican Church, inclined his head slightly toward the dean but walked straight on down the aisle.

Malenkov walked on too, apparently without having realized that the elaborately robed figure carrying a crozier was the archbishop.

Catholics Hold Easter Vigil Service

FOR THE FIRST time in hundreds of years an Easter Vigil Service became a mandatory part of Holy Week observances in the Roman Catholic Church.

Until this year the service was performed by permission of the bishop of the diocese. But there was nothing in church law requiring that it be held.

In Monroe County vigil services were conducted in all Catholic churches.

One of the services was held at Our Lady Queen of Peace where a vigil service was conducted last year by permission.

The vigil service is divided into three main parts. These sections trace, in symbols, the final hours of Christ's life, his death and resurrection and the spiritual effect of the light of Christ upon Man.

Fire

Fire or light is considered the "visible token of Christ" who proclaimed himself "the light of the world."

The first section of the vigil service is referred to as the "light service." It consists, briefly, of the blessing of the "new fire" outside the church—the fire symbolizing Christ—and the lighting of the Pascal candle.

The large candle is then carried into the church. Parishioners follow it into the darkened interior. Slowly, small candles held by each of those attending the service are lighted from the large, central fire, until the church glows with the light from the dozens of candles, or is, symbolically, lighted by Christ's own light.

The priest then sings the "Exultat" or "Hymn of Joy," elaborating on the joy in the hearts of all men that Christ came into the world and shed his light.

In the second phase of the service—called the baptismal section—prophecies from the text of the Old Testament are read. These prophecies predict the coming of a Messiah who will conquer death.

Congregation Stands

During this portion, all the people in the congregation stand. Holding lighted candles in their hands, the people renew their baptismal promises—the promises made previously by their godparents—in solemn recommitment to the life of Christ.

The third, and final, section of the service is the Eucharistic service and the celebration of the mass. After the earlier portions of the service, during which the persons are individually made sharers in the saving death and resurrection of Christ, the mass allows parishioners to take part in the re-enactment of that death and resurrection.

In the front of the church, during earlier portions, a purple drape is drawn across the altar. With the third phase, the curtain is drawn. A priest, dressed in white robe with the purple cross and stole, officiates at the mass—the solemn anniversary of "Christ's passage from death to resurrection."

There was nothing really "new" in the observance of the vigil service in Monroe County's—and the world's—Catholic churches.

Instead, it was a return to one of the oldest and most revered of Holy Week services. But for many Monroe County Catholics it was the first time such a service had been a required part of their Holy Week contemplation.

For some it was a first introduction to an ancient tradition.

Convicted Man To Plea

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., April 1 (AP)—William H. Davis Jr., 32, Negro handyman who is serving a life term for the strangling of Senada (Penny) Coates Evans, 30, in her Greenwich home, is scheduled to present a clemency plea tomorrow.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff will preside at the hearing of the six-man pardons board meeting tomorrow at the state prison here. A Superior Court jury convicted Davis of fatally choking Mrs. Evans, formerly of Norristown, Pa. with the cord of an electric clock. Davis escaped the electric chair when the jury recommended mercy.

Mrs. Evans was the estranged wife of the late Montgomery Evans II, 56. Evans was the son of Montgomery Evans, Norristown banker and lawyer who died in 1924.

AND LIGHT FOR A GREAT JOY—Final part of Easter Vigil Service is celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in Eucharistic service. Two photographs illustrate contrasts in early and late portions of service as lights from candles are replaced by bright lighting to symbolize transformation of the world through Christ's death and suffering and His ultimate resurrection. Monroe, Pike Make State Game News

A LITTER of two black bear cubs was in past considered average, and one of three cubs was worthy of note. But three dens containing four cubs, an exceptional number, were found in Pennsylvania this past winter. This is the story of the quads, plus one about triplets.

Early in February a prospecting beaver trapper and his dog located a female bear with four young on State Game Lands in Clarion County. When word of the unusual family got around curious humans flocked to the fished a refuge around the den, spot. The Game Commission established inconsiderate people continued to worry and frighten the mother. This excitement may have been the reason she did not rescue all of her babes when the den was flooded, late the same month, by a rain-swollen creek nearby. Three of the little cubs, their eyes not yet open, drowned.

Coincidentally, another female bear with quads was observed a few miles away. About them Game Protector William Denton said, "This mother and babies are getting along fine, but the people continue to disturb them."

Pike County
In Pike County, March 13th, four men doing gypsy moth control work discovered a hibernating bear. When they walked toward the den the bear "came for them", they said. One of the men yelled and the mother bear ran away, abandoning her four young. Investigation next day disclosed the female had not returned. The shivering cubs were then "adopted" into the family of Game Protector John Lohmann, of Milford. They were brought back to health by Mrs. Lehmann, who is a Registered Nurse. When another visit was made to the den the following day no indication was found that the mother had returned to the den.

On January 22, three men accompanied by a dog were looking over the rhododendron in Monroe County when the animal happened upon a hibernating bear. The dog

Sun Shines On Celebration Of Easter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE sun shone on Easter parades and their finery almost everywhere in the nation Sunday, but brisk winds on the plains and in the Southwest menaced their hats.

There were scattered showers only in the territory westward from the Upper Great Lakes to Montana and southwestward to southern California. Amounts were light. Ely, Nev. had five inches of snow.

Warm

It was unusually warm and windy over most of the Southern Plains, and temperatures were mild all through the East. Kansas City's minimum of 64 Sunday morning was 22 degrees above normal.

Dust was blowing in the Southwest.

Dies In Accident

AKRON, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—Ralph Spears, 23, was injured fatally today when the automobile in which he was riding left Route 93 and struck a tree about three miles north of this Erie County village.

MRS. Clarence Bonser accompanied her sister, Mrs. Ray Branning, and aunt, Mrs. Sherman Marsh, of Tobyhanna, to Allentown to visit their mother and sister, Mrs. Helen Kresge, who is a patient at the Allentown Hospital.

made such a fuss it roused the bear, a female, and she ran off leaving her three cubs to the elements. Game Protector John Spencer learned of the "find". By the time he and assistants arrived at the scene the nearly hairless two-day-old cubs were so cold and stiff they were near death. The little fellows were carried inside the men's warm jackets and were placed near a fireplace to finish the thawing-out process. Fed reviving liquids, they gradually improved.

When the triplets were in good physical condition, having been cared for by a Deputy Game Protector and his wife, they were picked up by George Koehler, of Williamsport the Game Commission's wildlife exhibitor. He and Mrs. Koehler nursed them along so well they "stole the show" when displayed at the Philadelphia Motor Boat and Sportsmen's Show early in March.

Richard (Dick) Halstead, who at present is employed at Williams Pharmacy, Pocono Pines, left Sunday for Washington where he will be employed by the government. Soon after dismissal of school, Mrs. Halstead and family will join him. Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Snyder returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith, who spent the winter in Florida, are at present spending some time with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Henninger and family, at Long Island, N. Y., after which they will return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson have returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Recently several members of the Pocono Lake Methodist Church helped with quilting at the home of Mrs. William McGore.

Recently Mrs. Philip Dunlap, Mrs. Willis Dunlap, Mrs. Mae Miller, Mrs. Ralph Dunlap and Mrs. Clarence Bonser gave a helping hand at quilting a quilt for Mrs. Emanuel Berger at the home of Mrs. Ralph Dunlap.

Mrs. Harry Altomose, who was confined to her home all winter, is able to be about again.
